NEW GERMAN CHANCELLOR

Prince Maximilian of Baden Said to be Inimical to the Kaiser.

London, Oct. 4.—The man who more than once was talked about by the German moderates as most likely to succeed in a coup d'etat to replace the Kaiser has been named by William II as Imperial Chancellor, succeeding Count von Hertling. He is Prince Maximilian of Baden.

The first suggestion the new chancellor made after being appointed chancellor was for another peace offensive, according to the Amsterdam correspondent of the Daily Express, who adds that the plan was promptly vetoed by the Kaiser and von Hindenburg.

Prince Maximilian is the prospective grand duke of Baden. He is 51 years old. His political confession of faith revolves around peace by understanding and conciliation. "No conquests" is one of his main principles.

Not long ago he startled Germany by an almost pacifist utterance urging a "rapprochement" with the allies, especially England and America. In political quarters here speculation turns about the question as to whether the Kaiser called his would-be rival to the highest office in his giving in order to "put him safe," lest in the quiet recesses of the Grand Duchy he continue plotting to seize the Hohenzollern crown.

To be sure, the reports that such has been the prince's ambition, or at least that of his friends and followers, have been vague, if persistent, and definite confirmation of these stories is still lacking.

The Prince's moderate views, however, are fully known.

The new chancellor is likely to make his debut in the Reichstag early next week, for the parties are reported to have called a plenary session for Wednesday. An important government statement is scheduled for that session and it may contain the announcement of a thoroughly revised foreign policy, perhaps a definite peace offer, so clamorously called for by the Socialist and other strong parties.

Wood, United States Public Health Service, late this afternoon issued an appeal to every woman in tehi city, regardless of color, to come forward to aid in nursing persons who are ill with Spanish influenza. Dr. Wood says the situation is serious and he urged all women to come forward and volunteer their services in this work. Hundreds of families who have this seckness in their homes have been unable to obtain nurses. Application should be made at once to the office of the United Public Health Service in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

At a meeting of the bar of the city of Alexandria, held October 3, 1918, in respect to the memory of George Washington Lewis, deceased, James R. Caton, Gardner L. Boothe and Richard Washington, were appointed a committee to prepare a memorial to the memory of the deceased, who presented the following preamble and resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, the bar of the city of Alexandria, has learned with feelings of sincere sorrow of the death of George Washington Lewis, of Braddock, Virginia, who has been associated with it professionally and personally for a number of years, and desires to express its appreciation of his character and worth, as well, as its affection for him both as a man and a lawyer.

Now, therefore, resolved, that by the death of George Washington Lewis, we are deprived of a genial, sincere and loved friend, who won our affections and regard by his sterling worth, manly traits, strict integrity, high ideals and fidelity to every trust; and who not only commanded and gained the confidence of the members of the bar, but also, the confidence and high esteem of the community in which he lived. He was an industrious pains-taking, zealous and able lawyer. His professional conduct was ethical in the highest degree, and he spurned everything that did not meet the approval of his conscience and accord with the uprightness of a lawyer. His sudden passing away is a great loss to, and a personal affliction to all who had the opportunity and the pleasure to know him, as a man, a lawyer, and a Christian gentlemen. The community in which he lived has lost one of its most progressive, faithful and public spirited citizen.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be mailed by the secretary of this meeting to the family of the deceased and that a copy thereof be presented for entry upon the minutes of the courts of Alexandria city and county.

Resolved, that copies of these resolutions be published in the Alexandria city and county papers.

James R. Caton,
Gardner L. Boothe,
Richard Washington, Committee.

APPEAL FOR GAUZE MASKS

An appeal has come from the head of the Red Cross at Camp Humphreys for 10,000 gauze masks, which are used as precaution against the influenza. This is so urgent that the Red Cross rooms, here, will be open every day from 10 to 1 p. m. 2:30 to 5:00 p. m., and every evening from 7:30 to 10:00 p. m., so that we may meet this appeal. The citizens of the town are urged to respond and come help make these masks.

"KAMERAD" TREACHERY

Americans Kill Entire Garrison of Abri de Saint Louis.

With the American First Army West of the Meuse, Oct. 4.—When the New Yorkers captured Abri de Saint Louis, a highly fortified stronghold in the Argonne Forest, hundreds of Germans, issued forth, their hands raised high above their heads, and cried:

"Kamerad! We surrender!"

The Americans stormed forward to within a few yards of the Germans. Then the latter suddenly dropped their hands, pulled grenades from their pockets and threw them among the Americans, whereupon they ran back to their trenches.

THE LOAN DRIVE

Heavy Subscriptions Reported by all of the Banks—Solicitors Well Pleased With Hearty Co-Operation on Part of Citizens.

Every bank in the city reports heavy subscriptions to the Fourth Liberty Loan. Indications are that this city soon will "go over the top." The committee in charge of the loan, however, is anxious that all persons who contemplate purchasing bonds do so without delay in order that Alexandria may obtain an honor flag.

The various committee engaged in the work of soliciting subscriptions for the loan report meeting with considerable success in their work, and all are enthusiastic over the subscriptions that are pouring in daily.

Telegrams to the Treasury Department from all parts of the country today indicate that the Fourth Liberty loan has hit the stride that will put it over the six billion minimum by the end of the allotted period.

Despite the fact that the quotas of all communities are practically doubled compared with the quotas during the Third Loan campaign, every district is reporting many of its cities already oversubscribed Extremely encouraging reports come from the middle west and north central sections, where Iowa has already exceeded its quota and where all of the States of the Minneapolis Federal Reserve District are nearing their goals.

At the close of business Tuesday night twenty-two cities and towns in New Engand had been awarded Honor Flags and in the city of Boston alone $24,000,000 had been raised. The house-to-house canvas in Boston, which had to be abandoned because of the epidemic of Spanish influenza, was resumed today because health conditions there have improved.

The Chicago Federal Reserve District reports that, in addition to Iowa's report of oversubscription, ten cities and five counties in Michigan are already over the top. Subscriptions among factory employes in Detroit thus far, compared with the same class of subscriptions during the Third Loan, show a ratio of four to one.

From the far west come most enthusiastic reports. Forty-nine counties in northern California have already subscribed officially $23,000 against a quota of $77,000,000 This is exclusive of San Francisco, where subscriptions have already reached $9,000,000. The San Francisco Federal Reserve District, at the close of business Tuesday night had $77,650,000 subscribed. Of this Idaho reported $1,754,400, with 9123 subscribers. Arizona had awarded five Honor Flags and Phoenix collected in cash on the opening day five per cent of its quota Oregon has banked $8,368,500, with individual subscribers numbering 39,126. Southern California banked $3,262,200, the number of subscribers being 12,653. Oakland led the western cities in the percentage of its quota collected on the opening day, this city having banked eleven per cent of its allotment.

Skamina County, Washington, nearly doubled its quota on the first day, Utah reports $4,995,500 taken by 23,106 subscribers.

Official post card returns from 380 banks out of 2,050 in the Richmond District at the close of business Monday gave total subscriptions of $14,158,000, with cash saes of $6,400,000 in addition. Petersburg, Va., had $1,500,000 and Norfolk, Va., $2,500,000. At Staunton, Va., women in three hours sold $115,000 of bonds. Bath County was the first in the District to report its full quota. Raleigh, North Carolina, at a mass-meeting subscribed $1,750,000, this being one-half its quota. Asheville, N. C., and Buncombe County have oversubcribed.

The Cleveland District reports official subscriptions of $15,213,100 at the close of business Tuesday. Forty-seven towns and communities in that district have aready reached their quotas and have been awarded Honor Flags.

A report from Long Beach, Long Island, indicate that the entire allotment of the town was taken at one mass-meeting and that its allotment would be trebled.

Mound Bayou, Miss., composed largely of negroes, whose allotment was $18,000 has already reported subscriptions in excess of $25,000.

American Forces Advance

American forces in Northern Russia have penetrated 240 miles southward from Archangel. The distance covered by the Americans would put them around the region of Fokinskaia, 120 miles east of the southern end of Lake Onega. Presumably the American advance proceeds along the railway running straight southward. from Archangel to Vologda. They are now about 12 5miles due north of that city and 375 miles north of Moscow.

TO CHECK SPANISH FLU

By Order of Dr. W. L. Wood, Sunday Schools, Churches, Moving Picture Theaters, Pool Rooms And Other Places Where Persons Gather Close. Believed Plague on Wane.

In order to check the spread of Spanish influenza and as a precautionary measure the churches, Sunday schools, moving picture theaters, bowling alleys, pool rooms and other places where persons gather were closed today. As stated in the Gazette yesterday the order for their closing was issued by Dr. W. L. Wood, special state health officer and also of the United States Public Health Officer in charge here.

These places will not be permitted to open until the epidemic subsides.

Prompt action such as taken today with the closing of these places it is believed by the physicians of the city will have a tendency to quickly check the spread of the plague and it is believed now that it has almost run its course and that before long the places closed will be reopened.

This will be the first time since the civil war that places of public worship have had to be closed.

Sunday, therefore, all persons will have to be satisfied with reading their Bibles and prayer books at their own homes and the children likewise will have to read their Sunday School lessons at home.

TURKEY WANTS PEACE

Withdrawing From the Caucasus as Surrender to Allies is Rumored.

London, Oct. 4.—The Turks have begun withdrawing their forces from the Caucasus for purposes of home defense, according to reliable information reaching here.

London, Oct. 4.—Reports of an impending unconditional surrender by Turkey will not down. They permeated the city again all yesterday. No sooner had the stock market opened when the story that Turkey's laydown had actually come to pass was circulated with a positiveness and persistency which ordinarily mark only facts that are known beyond all possible doubt.

An army of correspondents besieged the foreign office all day. They were still at their posts last night. But the last word that could be obtained from Balfour's sanctum sanctorum was that the foreign office had no confirmation of the various reports.

From Zurich came a circumstantial story to the Daily News confirming the report cabled two nights ago that Turkey has sent a virtual ultimatum to Germany.

The Porte, according to this dispatch, has notified Berlin that he intends to "propose peace," which may be taken as a last pretense of pride, a campuflage for the humiliating word "surrender" which alone will be listened to by the allies, just as in Bulgaria's case.

TAKE CITY OF LENS

Famous "Black District" of France Abandoned by the Germans Without a Shot.

London, Oct. 4.—The British Fourth army yesterday broke through the German line on both sides of Beau Revoir (nearly three miles east of Le Catelet) and captured Mont Brehain, midway between Beau Revoir and Fonsomme.

The coal city of Lens, center of France's famous "black district," has been abandoned by the Germans without a shot. Armentieres, likewise, has been evacuated. The whole front between the two towns, a stretch of some seventeen miles, has fallen back and is still in retreat. Berlin asserts officially Lens and Armentieres were abandoned Tuesday evening, and appends to this announcement Ludendorff's pet phrase in hours of admissions of defeat: "Unnoticed by the enemy."

The German Lens-Armentieres retreat already has reached a depth of nearly five miles.

Late yesterday evening front dispatches deport indications that the Germans are removing the civilian population from Lille, the northern hinge of the tottering Hindenburg line.

Several thousand prisoners were taken in today's fighting.

King Albert's valiant little army and its British comrades under Plumer are withstanding terrific German counter attacks and are fighting their way forward toward the important bases of Turcoing and Scoutrai.

The French between five and six miles southeast of St. Quentin, are rapidly outflanking La Fere. That place captured, only two hinges, Lille in the north and Laon in the south, will remain to testify that there was once a Hindenburg line. Laon already is gravely threatened by the French, who are only five miles to the south of it.

MINIMIZING SURRENDER

Alibis Being Furnished in Germany to Break Bad News Gently

The German press, apparently on the orders of the government, is attempting to minimize the bad effect of the Bulgarian surrender, say official dispatches from France yesterday.

As late as September 30 the semi-official Wolff Bureau maintained that the Sofia cabinet was unaware of the armistice clauses, whereas yesterday the Koelnische Zeitung declared that "nothing irreparable has yet happened." Other journals attempt to say the Malinoff cabinet lacks the backing of the Bulgarian people, and the Frankfurter Zeitung is greatly excited over the condition imposed by the allies, which, it add indignantly, are far more strict than the Brest-Litovsk and Buchares treaties.

The Wolff Bureau makes much ado over a telegram from Constantinople which explains "that the Turkish people are bearing their trials in a dignified manner and intend to remain loyal to the alliance with the central powers."

WANT DEMOCRATIC PEACE

Bulgaria's Defection Affecting Austrian Public Opinion Deeply

Two official dispatches from Berne emphasize new phases of conditions in Germany and Austria-Hungary, and especially the desire of the latter country to break from the alliance. One says:

"The Bulgar defection seems to affect very much the Austro-Hungarian public opinion. The Vienna Korrespondez Bureau says that a Budapest paper deeemd it necessary to deny rumors to the effect that the dual monarchy would feel inclined to make a separate peace. Besides, a correspondent of the Vossische Zeitung declares that Count Karolyi has made the following statement to his friends; 'We are here to try to make possible the pacifists' peace. Quick intervention is necessary. We must obtain a democratic peace.'"

The other dispatch says that because of the shortage of men in Germany, the Bavarian landstrum has been detailed to police the Swiss borden. Because of this hundreds of German soldiers daily desert into Switzerland.

HEAVY BOND PURCHA

Carpenters' And Joiners' Local M... Biggest Purchase On Opening Day of Sales—One of Its Members To Ride With Aviator Bonney.

Carpenters' and Joiners' Local No. 1665 purchased the largest amount of the Fourth Liberty Loan Bonds on the first day of the sale. This announcement was made today by L... P. Harlow, chairman of the loan committee on the loan who delivered an address last night before the members of that organization in the interest of the sale.

To the individual organization purchasing the largest amount of bonds Aviator W. L. Bonney, of the Alexandria Aircraft Company, announced that he would give a free ride over the city in his air boat. This organization will select a member who will take the ride with Mr. Bonney.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, T. E. Dyson, local manager, has purchased $5,000 of the bonds which will be credited to this city.

In connection with the article which appeared in last night's Gazette relative to the allotment of the bonds to this city and their sale it should have been stated that approximately 2... persons will have to purchase bonds in order for Alexandria to obtain the honor flag and it will not be necessary for Alexandria to go over her allotment which is $6.

Owing to the limited clerical forces at the different banks it is announced that all persons who sign the pledge cards for bonds should call at the banks and make their arrangements as it will be utterly impossible for the banks to notify each subscriber.

The colored women of the city have organized a committee to boost the sale of the bonds with the following members: Mrs. M. A. Tancil, Miss Hattie Darnell, Mrs. Maria Lumpkins, Miss Minnie Brooks, Mrs. Bessie Moore, Mrs. Delila Murray, Mrs. Maggie Evans.

MARINES SOAR ON WAR NEWS

Steels Neglected as Shipping Shares Assume Market Leadership

New York, Oct. 4.—War news gave Wall Street an exciting and erratic stock market yesterday. Rumors that Turkey had surrendered unconditionally came in connection with official reports of allied advances and important German withdrawals. It was also believed in banking circles that Austria would within a fortnight place her interests in the hands of the United States.

With the prospect of peace growing brighter, shipping shares assumed leadership of the market and steels were neglected. International Merchant Marine had a sheer rise of 7 points and held most of it. United States Steel closed at the low price of the day.

The movement in Merchantile Marine caught the street by surprise although it was freely forecasted an hour before it became active. The only reason given for the activity was an expected meeting of directors to be held in the afternoon. When the market closed the street was still without any official statement to warrant a movement. But traders know that a deal for the British ships of the company is under way and there was confidence that it might be consummated at the yesterday's meeting.

German newspapers predict a German retirement to a straight line between Antwerp and Metz, surrendering half of Belgium.

The Austrian base of Berat, in Albania, has been surrendered without a fight the Austrian war office announced last night.

A TIMELY SUGGESTION

We are loth to abridge juvenile pastimes, as we were a boy ourselves once upon a time, but we are called upon to make a suggestion during present conditions in Alexandria. Many people are indisposed, some ill, and it is requisite to do everything possible to hasten their speedy convalescence. The elimination of unnecessary noises is essential, and large numbers of young people of both sexes are adding to the worries of their elders by incessant roller-skating. Another instrument of torture is constructed by placing wheels of roller-skates upon a piece of board which they mounte and pushes along. Granolithic sidewalks are the race tracks for young people who operate these devices most of the day and far into the night.

The attention of the police has been directed to this annoyance, and they are endeavoring to suppress the pastime, but as few policemen can be kept on duty in the city at present, they need the cooperation of parents who should vie with them in the work.

The military policemen will also be on the lookout for such as persist in annoying their elders, and it is hoped that the practice will cease during present conditions without force or compulsion. If youngsters persist in amusing themselves in the manner described above they should confine their pleasures to the roadway and not upon granolithic sidewalks which are materially injured by roller skates.

STEAM ROLLER IN THE EAST

The captue of Damascus, capital of Syria, by the British was announced this week. The city of Bagdad was wrested from the Turks sometime ago, as was also Jerusalem. These cities are interesting to the antiquarian and historian, as they carry his mind back centuries, yea thousands of years.

It is unnecessary to say much of Jerusalem, the City of the Great King. It has been suggested that there are two interesting cities in the world—Jerusalem and Rome.

Bagdad was long ago capital of the Moslem Empire. The collator of the stories in the Arabian Nights' Entertainment has rendered Bagdad peculiarly interesting by making the city of Caliph Al Raschad the scene of most of the charming stories which are relished not only by the young but the old also. This city of the Tigris has withstood the tooth of time, although centuries have elapsed since it was the city of the Grand Caliph.

The announcement of the capture of Damascus by the British brings to mind the history of this city and the rivers Abana and Pharpar. Mahomet after having drawn near Damascus refused to enter the city, remarking that he did not desire to go to heaven until his worldly mission had ended. From a short distance Damascus is said to present an enchanting picture.

Damascus was a city in the days of Abraham, approximately four thousand years ago. During all these years it has borne many different yokes. It witnessed the rise of the Assyrian, the Medo-Persian, Grecian and Roman Empires. It was also a spectator at the rise of Mahomet, Charlemagne, Napoleon and the Kaiser, and now in its hoary age is entertaining the forces of General Allenby. As it saw the decline and fall of the great world empires of old, it is doubtless destined to witness the crumbling of the German Empire and the fall of its haughty Kaiser.

The Great Apostle (Paul) was led into Damascus and the street, called Straight by the hand after he had been stricken blind in his headstrong course and while breathing threatenings and slaughter against the humble disciples of the Crucified One.

Like Scheid, Damascus is made to play parts in the Thousand and One Stories told by Scheherazade to her sultan and which so kept her head upon her shoulders.

THE KAISER'S DILEMMA

The Kaiser, as has been suggested, is not yet ready to surrender to the enemy, but he is, or professes to be, ready to surrender to his own people. Of course his sincerity may be questioned, but as it is the product of the advance of the Allies it will probably last long enough.

The people have got to have peace. The Kaiser cannot yet bring himself to get it for them, but the steady retreat of his principal armies, the surrender of his friend Ferdinand, and the defeat and impending surrender of his great and good friend the Turkish Sultan, have shed light on his path and on coming events, and made plain to him the path of duty and safety.

Peace has got to be obtained, and von Hertling could not negotiate it because he represented only the Kaiser, for which reason he could not get along with the Reichstag any longer. He had to resign because no Chancellor who does not seek peace can get along with the Reichstag. Peace has got to be sought by a Chancellor selected by the Reichstag. This involves a political revolution in Germany. It means a responsible Ministry, under a Chancellor subject to the representatives of the people.

The German people are going to get peace and the Kaiser must surrender to democracy. He may hope that the Allies will grant more liberal peace terms to the representatives of the people than they would to the author of this inexcusable and brutal war of conquest and world domination. At any rate, he knows that the people are going to get peace pretty soon, and they are not going to fight to the point of extermination. He knows it is no longer safe for the Hohenzollern family for him to stand between the people and peace.

WHEN PEACE WILL COME

Peace?
Not on your life.
Till forty-five has had
His say-so in this strife.
For I want war.
I want relentless war
Till every blood-soaked Hun
Knows what we're fighting for,
Wipe out the Thing,
The brutal, lying Thing
That's filled a helpless world
With woe and suffering.
Destroy the beast.
Remove his teeth and claws.
Don't let him start again
A war in Kultur's cause.
And he must pay.
The price is on his head,
For every drop of blood
He wantonly has shed.
Why talk of peace?
When day is turned to night,
When we have grasped the sword
And just begun to fight.
No crown must stay
On Kultur's bestial brow.
So worward, march!
We'll fight the next war
N O W.

Liberty has sounded a "trumpet call that will never know retreat," the tide of victory will know no ebb, the day of Prussian disaster and defeat is dawning. And daily the skies grow brighter, and daily hope grows into certainty.

It has often been suggested there is a possibility that the conflict may end as suddenly as it began, that peace may come with the rush as of many waters, just as war leaped unexpectedly from the jungle with its tigerish roar.

But the wise optimist keeps himself loaded with dynamite as well as with hope says an exchange. He is not going to take any chances, to make any slips, to indulge in any naps, to fool himself or be fooled. He has got a "cinch" on victory, but he is going to tighten it every day. The war will be ended. When it is ended, and until it is ended and victorious Democracy has her foot on prostrate despotism we must continue to smash tyranny with all the strength of an unrelaxing purpose. Let us not be afraid to expect the best at any time; but let us make the best sure by counting only that as certain which we have wrested by our good right arms from the kingdom of darkness.

The end of the war will come only in one of two ways. Only through the absolute and unconditional surrender of German militarism—such a surrender as that of Bulgaria—or by a revolution on the part of the German people and their willingness to accept such a peace as we may grant them. There is no other way. We cannot count yet on the probability of popular repentance and co-operation in Germany. The only thing we can certainly count on is the sure efficacy and convincing power of cold steel and hot shell. The duration of the war depends mainly upon ourselves. The harder we hit the sooner it will be over. That is the logic that appeals most strongly to the German mind.

It may be that the fear of death and ruin may quicken German virtue. There are abundant signs that the German people are getting nervous and panicky. War in Germany, they doubtless begin to realize, will be a very different thing from war in Poland, Serbia, Belgium and France. And they may well cast about for a way to protect themselves from the evils which they have let loose upon others.

We bear the torch to them as well as to other nations, but we must continue to bear it on our bayonets until they gaze upon the world with new eyes and new minds. We hope that day will speedily come. But the way to hasten it is by the redeeming grace of a strong arm and the outstretched hand of righteous power.

Insure Your Business Against Prussian Piracy

Buy a "Liberty" Policy

You have fire insurance, life and accident insurance, indemnity insurance, to safe-guard your business. But there are other policies you must have for your own protection, policies of insurance against the Kaiser, whose power is the greatest peril and the greatest force of destruction in the world today.

Liberty Bonds are the Best Policy

Every Liberty Bond you buy is a policy of insurance against the destruction of your freedom, your happiness, your home, and your livelihood. You cannot have too much of that kind of insurance. France and Belgium and Serbia and Poland show what Prussian militarism would do to the United States if we should fail to crush it.

NEWS OF THE DAY

A bored-looking person advanced to the paying teller's cage of the Park Ridge State Bank, in Chicago one night this week and without a word, handed Otto H. Franke, the teller, a piece of folded paper. Franke read the note, grinned and then read it again. This is what he read: "Hand over $20,000 quick or I'll blow your head off. I have a bottle of nitro glycerine in my pocket which will blow the bank up if I don't get the money." Franke thought it a practical joke. But as he looked up again his face bumped cold steel. He was looking at a very large revolver. Franke reached into a money drawer and pulled out a sheaf of bills amounting to $2,500. The bandit satisfied walked nonchalantly out of the bank. He was caught in a field.

Charged with attempting to blow up the Real Estate Trust Company's big office building at Broad and Chestnut streets, Philadelphia, Frank Tillyes, an Austrian, who was employed in the building as a fireman, was arrested. The man is accused of allowing the water to run low in the boilers, for the purpose of causing an explosion which would wreck the building. The prisoner is 27 years old. The detectives say he is affiliated with the I. W. W. organization. Although he admitted being an Austrian subject, he was not registered.

Your Winter's Coal Supply

On account of rulings of the U. S. Fuel Administration, it seems doubtful if Virginia will receive sufficient anthracite coal to supply the demands. If present rulings are maintained, this shortage will be very great in Alexandria and we earnestly advise our customers to put in a reasonable amount of bituminous coal as a safeguard against a coal shortage next winter.

We are now securing some very fine bituminous coal which we believe will work in all characters of coal burners but the latrobe stoves.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Twenty patients, many of them already suffering from wounds, received in battle, were killed when a German shell struck an American hospital in France several nights ago. The hospital was only a short distance behind the fighting line. It is possible that it was a stray shell, but it appears probable that a deliberate attempt was made to attack the hospital.

The triumph of the captain and crew of the U-boat that torpedoed and sank the French cruiser Dupewin Thouars in European waters, on August 7, was short-lived. The undersea pirate had just come to the surface to view the effect of his torpedoes when a well-directed shot from an American freight ship sent him to the bottom. Wreckage floating about the spot indicated that the shot had torn the U-boat apart.

Twenty-one German airplanes and nine balloons were brought down by the British Wednesday, the British war office communique on aviation announced last night. The British lost eight machines. Forty-four tons of bombs were dropped on various German targets.
